Public Administration MPA/Criminal Justice MS Dual Degree

Together, the Graduate Student Handbook and your graduate program handbook should serve as your main guide throughout your graduate career. The Graduate Student Handbook includes university information, policies, requirements and guidance for all graduate students. Your program handbook describes the details about graduate study and requirements in your specific program. While both of these handbooks are wonderful resources, know that you are always welcome to talk with faculty and staff in your program and in the Graduate College.

The central activities and missions of a university rest upon the fundamental assumption that all members of the university community conduct themselves in accordance with a strict adherence to academic and scholarly integrity. As a graduate student and member of the university community, you are expected to display the highest standards of academic and personal integrity.

Here are some resources to help you better understand your responsibilities:

Introduction

The Public Administration MPA- Criminal Justice MS Dual Degree program provides the opportunity for students to earn graduate degrees from two academic programs, the Master of Science in Criminal Justice and the Master of Public Administration, concurrently. The program emphasizes criminal justice and public administration research, theory, policy and organizational administration to prepare future public service organizational leaders in public, nonprofit, social service, and private organizations. After completion of the MPA/MS dual degree program, students will receive two diplomas, one for the Criminal Justice MS and one for the Public Administration MPA.

The dual degree track consists of 51 credit hours. Each student completes a core of 11 courses (33 credit hours), two research methods and statistics courses (6 credit hours), two electives (6 credit hours), and a capstone experience of two courses (6 credit hours). Students must earn at least a B grade in all CCJ/CJE core requirements and at least a B- grade in PAD core requirements.

Curriculum

Please visit the Graduate Catalog to see the current curriculum for our program.

Timeline for Completion

Graduate students have seven years from the original date of admission to complete a graduate program. No course older than seven years at the time of graduation may be used in the Plan of Study to fulfill degree requirements. This includes transfer work and applies to students who have been re-admitted or received a Special Leave of Absence.

Student may choose to complete all courses in one discipline first or mix Public Administration and Criminal Justice courses each semester.

Minimum Hours Required for MPAMS —51 Credit Hours

Students must complete 51 hours of course work with at least a 3.0 overall grade point average and in their course work of study. Internal program policies prohibit the substitution of additional course work into the plan of study due to poor academic performance. Further, university guidelines stipulate that 50 percent (or 18 hours) of their 36-hour plan of study must consist of classes taken at the 6000 level or higher. Students are encouraged to meet with a program adviser (or their graduate director) before enrolling in courses. With the approval of the graduate director, senior scholars, post-baccalaureate students, or students enrolled in a CJ graduate certificate may request to apply up to 12 credit hours of criminal justice graduate course work (taken at UCF) toward the Master of Science degree. However, transfer work at the graduate level from other universities is limited to 9 credit hours pending program review and approval.

Students must earn at least a B grade in all CCJ/CJE core requirements and at least a B- grade in PAD core requirements.

Plan of Study (POS) and Course Load

At the graduate level, nine credit hours is considered full time in the spring and fall, and six is considered full time during the summer terms. Graduate courses are more rigorous and demanding than undergraduate courses. Students will be doing more reading, researching, and writing, and the quality of work is held to a higher standards. Students should not overload themselves. The School of Public Administration and Department of Criminal Justice recommends that students start slower, if possible, and then add more courses in a subsequent semester if schedules and study habits allow it.

A Plan of Study must be submitted upon admittance to the program. This form allows students to develop a tentative plan for the program and become familiar with the curriculum. It will be reviewed with the program advisor. Failure to submit this form will result in limited course enrollment and an account hold.

Examination Requirements

A final survey is required of all students completing the Criminal Justice Master's program. The survey requirement will be completed online in students' last semester.
