Theatre MA

Together, the Graduate Student Handbook and your graduate program handbook should serve as your main guide throughout your graduate career. The Graduate Student Handbook includes university information, policies, requirements and guidance for all graduate students. Your program handbook describes the details about graduate study and requirements in your specific program. While both of these handbooks are wonderful resources, know that you are always welcome to talk with faculty and staff in your program and in the Graduate College.

The central activities and missions of a university rest upon the fundamental assumption that all members of the university community conduct themselves in accordance with a strict adherence to academic and scholarly integrity. As a graduate student and member of the university community, you are expected to display the highest standards of academic and personal integrity.

Here are some resources to help you better understand your responsibilities:

- Academic Honesty
- Academic Integrity Training - Open to all graduate students at no cost
- Plagiarism

Introduction

The MA Graduate Program seeks to develop theatre scholars of high quality by providing a select number of graduate students with the training, education, and experiences necessary for the successful pursuit of PhD studies, teacher certifications in specific areas of theatre and careers in the Arts and Entertainment Industry.

Departmental Structure – Theatre UCF

The Director of the School of Performing Arts is responsible for the administration and coordination of curricular and production aspects of the program. The Artistic Director is responsible for the artistic oversight of all productions. Final decisions concerning both academics and productions must be approved by the Director in conjunction with the Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities.

The Coordinator of Undergraduate Studies, the Coordinator of Graduate Studies, and the Area Coordinators report to the Director and assist in the overall administration of all academic programs.

Students experiencing any problems or difficulties should first express their concerns to their immediate supervisors, advisors, or Area Coordinators before bringing them directly to the attention of the Director of the School of Performing Arts (SPA) and the Artistic Director of Theatre UCF. If your supervisor, advisor, or coordinator is unable to assist you, or you are dissatisfied with their consultation, please do not hesitate to make an appointment with the Director.

Advising and Mentoring

Advising and mentoring are two very important elements in a graduate student's career, and it is essential that the graduate student seek appropriate guidance through advising and mentoring as they begin the program.

Your primary advisor is the Graduate Program Coordinator. The Graduate Program Coordinator provides guidance on overall academic requirements, program and university policies and procedures. In addition, the Graduate Area Coordinators can provide guidance and assistance on track specific issues and questions.

Your Area Coordinator serves as an additional advisor and mentor in providing information on your specific track, as well as professional guidance in internship decisions, career development, and thesis development.

Your thesis advisor also serves as a mentor providing academic guidance on thesis requirements, implementation, and defense. For further information please see section on Thesis Guidelines.

It is the student's responsibility to keep informed of all rules, regulations, and procedures required for graduate studies. Graduate program regulations will not be waived or exceptions granted because students plead ignorance of the regulations or claim failure of any adviser to keep them informed.

At the discretion of the Theatre MA/MFA program director, the department may enroll the student in independent course work (particularly those occurring outside of the state) without the student's expressed consent. It is the student's responsibility to check their schedule every term to make sure the courses are accurate. If the student believes s/he was enrolled incorrectly by the department, it is the student's responsibility to notify the department immediately.

Master of Arts in Theatre Degrees/Course Requirements

The Master of Arts in Theatre offers a rigorous course of study of 39 credit hours minimum, culminating in the writing of a scholarly thesis. Candidates must demonstrate the ability to understand the conceptual basis of their art and to be able to articulate that understanding to others. In addition to their theoretical studies, MA students are also required to demonstrate proficiency in theatrical production. Students are expected to select either Theatre Studies or Musical Theatre as their concentration when applying for the program. Of the 39 credit hours required for the program, 30 credit hours as required core courses with the other 9 credit hours chosen from a specified list of elective Theatre courses offered by the School.

Transfer and Residency

Whether the courses are from an unearned or earned master's degree, students can only transfer 9 hours into a master's program. Courses from an unearned master's degree can be transferred only if taken within seven years. A minimum of 30 credits must be taken at the University of Central Florida. A student must complete a residency requirement of at least two full-time consecutive semesters. Summer session may be counted toward the two consecutive semester requirement.

Examination Requirements

Comprehensive Examination

A comprehensive departmental theatre exam is administered to MA majors at the end of their course work. The department allows two attempts at a comprehensive exam.

Make sure to complete the core course requirements in preparation for the comprehensive exam. In addition, there will be elective courses that are completed. These elective courses are incorporated into your master's program to provide you with a different perspective of your research topic and to broaden the application of your field of research.

Thesis Requirements

The Thesis Project is the culminating or comprehensive experience of all the academic and production work in the course of study in the Department of Theatre at the University of Central Florida.

University Dissertation Requirements

The College of Graduate Studies Thesis and Dissertation page contains information on the university's requirements for dissertation formatting, format review, defenses, final submission, and more. A step-by-step completion guide is also available on Thesis and Dissertation Services Site.

All university deadlines are listed in the Academic Calendar. Your program or college may have other earlier deadlines; please check with your program and college staff for additional deadlines.

The following requirements must be met by dissertation students in their final term:

- Submit a properly formatted file for initial format review by the format review deadline
- Submit the Thesis and Dissertation Release Option form well before the defense
- Defend by the defense deadline
- Receive format approval (if not granted upon initial review)
- Submit signed approval form by final submission deadline
- Submit final dissertation document by final submission deadline

Students must format their dissertation according to the standards outlined in Thesis and Dissertation Webcourse. Formatting questions or issues can be submitted to the Format Help page in the Thesis and Dissertation Services site. Format reviews and final submission must be completed in the Thesis and Dissertation Services site. The Dissertation Approval Form is also available in the Thesis and Dissertation Services site.

The College of Graduate Studies offers several thesis and dissertation Workshops each term. Students are highly encouraged to attend these workshops early in the dissertation process to fully understand the above policies and procedures.

The College of Graduate Studies thesis and dissertation office is best reached by email at editor@ucf.edu.

Thesis Committee

A master's student's thesis committee must consist of at least three members and be approved by the College of Graduate Studies. Of the three members, two of these must be qualified faculty members in your program, one of whom must serve as the chair of the committee. To identify qualified graduate faculty members, please see the Graduate Faculty Listing provided by the College of Graduate Studies.

Once the committee's chair has been determined, the student will propose other thesis committee members in consultation and agreement with the committee chair. This committee will provide continual guidance for the student and become the principal mechanism for the evaluation of the student's thesis project.

UCF faculty members must form the majority of any given committee. Committee membership must be approved by the College of Graduate Studies. All members must be in fields related to the Thesis topic. Qualifications of additional members must be equivalent to that expected of UCF faculty members.

The College of Graduate Studies reserves the right to review appointments to a Thesis Committee, place a representative on any Thesis Committee, or appoint a Co-Chair. A student may request a change in membership of the thesis committee. All committee members vote on acceptance or rejection of the thesis project outline and the final thesis. The thesis project outline and final thesis must be approved by a majority of the committee.

For more details about the Thesis Committee, please refer to the UCF Graduate Catalog: catalog.ucf.edu/ > Policies > Master's Program Policies > Thesis Requirements > Thesis Advisory Committee Composition.

Thesis Enrollment

Prior to enrollment into THE 6971 Thesis, your thesis committee must be reviewed and approved by the College of Graduate Studies. This form can be found via the Thesis and Dissertation site.

The MFA student is required to complete six credit hours of thesis work prior to or concurrent with the defense of his/her thesis project. The MA student is required to complete nine credit hours of thesis work prior to or concurrent with the defense of his/her thesis project. Students are allowed to defend their thesis project when the thesis has been written and satisfies the committee. Thesis students engaging in thesis projects must be continuously enrolled in at least one hour of THE 6971 every semester, including summers, until they successfully defend and submit their thesis to the University Thesis Editor. This enrollment each semester reflects the expenditure of university resources, and is required even if more than the minimum number of hours is needed for completion of the thesis. While one hour is the minimum enrollment, this does not constitute full time enrollment for tuition, financial aid, or employment purposes. For master's students pursuing a thesis option, full-time enrollment is defined as 3 hours per semester of thesis course work (THE 6971), after completion of all course work and until graduation.

Request for Thesis Project

For approval of a thesis project and a thesis committee, the student must complete (with the help of the Graduate Program Coordinator) the "Thesis Advisory Committee Form." The form includes the selection of the student's committee (which the student will choose in consultation and agreement with the committee chair). Please also include the brief proposal abstract--the specific assignment request with brief justification of scope and appropriateness of the thesis project as well as its anticipated outcomes.

If the student chooses a thesis project that is linked to a specific production, the student must initiate a thesis proposal process within a two-week period after notification of casting or any other production assignment. Any student who uses human subjects during the course of his/her study (i.e. surveys, interviews, etc.) must gain IRB approval prior to beginning the study. For access to the IRB submission form and sample consent forms, please visit the Office of Research IRB website. You must include a copy of your human subjects' permission letter as an appendix in your ETD, even if your study received exempt status.

Thesis Outline

Once the proposal abstract is approved, the student must submit a written outline, which describes preliminary research and analysis of the topic. The thesis outline should also include a preliminary working bibliography, which presents the resources the student plans to use to guide him or her in the research process. The student should work with the selected committee chair to tailor a plan for the specific project and discipline. Students are strongly encouraged to keep in touch with their committee as they develop their thesis project. The thesis outline should be submitted to the thesis committee for approval before beginning production work. Deadlines for the thesis outline will be extended if necessary.

Written Thesis Document

After the approval of the thesis outline, the student will work primarily with the committee chair on the body of the document. Once the document is in an appropriate form, the committee chair will have the student distribute a revised draft to each committee member for comments. Allow at least two weeks for each committee member to respond. The student will then proceed to write the final draft of the document. The final document is to be completed and submitted to the entire committee two weeks prior to the scheduled defense. The final document must be formatted in accordance with the MLA Handbook and the University of Central Florida Format requirements. The university requires all students submitting a thesis as part of their graduate degree requirements to first submit their electronic document through iThenticate.com for advisement purposes and for review of originality. The thesis chair is responsible for scheduling this submission to iThenticate.com and for reviewing the results with the student's advisory committee (typically during the student's final semester). Please see the Thesis and Dissertation page for comprehensive information about originality and using iThenticate.com.

Graduate Research

Ethics in Research

Researchers in every discipline have a responsibility for ethical awareness as the status of the profession rests with each individual researcher. It is important to be honest and ethical in conducting research as well as in taking classes. The ethical collection and use of information includes, but is by no means limited to, the following: confidentiality, accuracy, relevance, self-responsibility, honesty, and awareness of conflict of interest.

The University of Arizona's Code of Research Ethics provides our students with guidelines for responsible practice in research. This code of ethics can be found here: facultygovernance.arizona.edu/sites/facgov/files/code-of-ethics-research.pdf.

Human Subjects

Human Subjects: Any student who uses human subjects during the course of his/her study (i.e. surveys, interviews, etc.) must gain IRB approval prior to beginning the study. For access to the IRB submission form and sample consent forms, please visit the Office of Research IRB website. You must include a copy of your human subjects' permission letter as an appendix in your ETD, even if your study received exempt status.

Academic Behavior Standards

University of Central Florida is committed to a policy of honesty in academic affairs. Examples of conduct for which students may be subject to academic and/or disciplinary penalties including expulsion are:

- Cheating, whereby non-permissible written, visual, or oral assistance including that obtained from another student is utilized on examinations, course assignments, or projects. The unauthorized possession or use of examination or course related material may also constitute cheating.
- Plagiarism, whereby another's work is deliberately used or appropriated without any indication of the source, thereby attempting to convey the impression that such work is the student's own. Any student failing to properly credit ideas or materials taken from another has plagiarized.
- Unauthorized assistance: communication to another through written, visual, or oral means. The presentation of material which has not been studied or learned, but rather was obtained solely through someone else's efforts and used as part of an examination, course assignment or project. The unauthorized possession or use of examination or course related material may also constitute cheating.
- Commercial Use of Academic Material: Selling notes, handouts, etc. without authorization or using them for any commercial purpose without the express written permission of the university and the Instructor is a violation of this rule.

NOTE: A student who has assisted another in any of the aforementioned breach of standards shall be considered equally culpable. In cases of cheating or plagiarism, the instructor may take appropriate academic action ranging from loss of credit for a specific assignment, examination, or project to removal from the course with a grade of "F." Additionally, the instructor may request disciplinary action through the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities as outlined in The Golden Rule.

Research/Creative Activities

Students are encouraged to present their research/creative projects at the Annual Graduate Research Forum, hosted by the UCF Graduate Studies and the Graduate Student Association. For more information about UCF Research Week, please visit researchweek.ucf.edu/.

Assistantships

An assistantship is our usual method of supporting graduate students and is classified as either Graduate Teaching Assistantships (GTA), Graduate Research Assistantships (GRA), or Graduate Assistantships (GA). Details about your assistantship level of support are provided in the Graduate Financial Support Proposal letter, and your assistantship payments will be bi-weekly, starting near the end of September. The assistantship is intended to enhance your career opportunities by providing you with practical experience within your profession while also assisting you with your housing, food, and other living expenses. Assistantships are usually renewable contingent upon satisfactory performance of assigned duties, the availability of funds, and continued academic progress towards your degree including the maintenance of a graduate GPA of 3.0. Assistantships are designated as either Full-time Assistantships or Half-time Assistantships which differ by the number of service responsibilities assigned to you and the amount of your stipend. Your responsibilities will initially be assigned by your graduate program director.

- A GTA enables you to assist in teaching within your profession and requires you to complete a GTA training offered in the first weeks of each semester prior to beginning the assistantship. International students may also be required to take a Versant test to ascertain your proficiency with spoken English.
- A GRA enables you to gain valuable experience working as a researcher within your profession.
- A GA enables you to work outside of your program area, although your duties may be closely related to your profession.

GTA Training Requirements

If the student is hired in the position of Graduate Teaching Associate, Assistant or Graders; there are training requirements that must be met in order for the contract to be processed. Graders and Assistants must complete an online legal module. Associates must complete both a training and an online legal module. Associates must also have completed at least 18 hours of graduate courses in the discipline they will be teaching. Students who are employed as Graders are required to complete the online legal module. These services are offered by the Faculty Center for Teaching and Learning (FCTL) and more information can be found at the following website: fctl.ucf.edu/.

GTA Programs

International students who will be hired in GTA positions must be proficient at speaking English. This is determined by successfully passing the Versant test with a score of 55 or better. This test (also known as the Oral Proficiency Exam) is administered during the GTA orientation by the Center for Multicultural and Multilingual Services (CMMS). For international student to register for or inquire about the Versant examination, please contact the Center for Multicultural and Multilingual Services.

GTA Performance Assessment

At the completion of each semester the student is employed as a GTA, the student's performance will be evaluated by the faculty advisor. These assessments will be used to review strengths and weaknesses in the student's performance in preparation for future employment.

Fellowships

The University of Central Florida offers a variety of fellowships with each having unique eligibility requirements. Many are directed toward students pursuing specific degrees in specific professions, while others are broader in their eligibility requirements. In all cases, the fellowships are competitive and most require nomination by your program. University-wide fellowships do carry an obligation to fill service responsibilities and are provided solely to allow you to focus on your studies without undue financial or outside work distractions. However some college or departmental fellowship may have other requirements. Work outside of the university is discouraged when receiving a fellowship. Your fellowship may also be supplemented by a UCF assistantship. Payment of your fellowship will usually occur through the Office of Financial Aid by a direct deposit or a check once per semester. Continued funding of your fellowship is contingent upon your continued academic progress towards your degree including the maintenance of a graduate GPA of 3.0.

MFA Provost Fellowship

This is a competitive award given to students who possess outstanding credentials. The award consists of $10,000 ($5,000 each in fall and spring semesters) and a tuition award that covers both out-of-state (if applicable) and in-state tuition for 9 semester hours of coursework. In the summer, a tuition award also covers 6 semester hours of coursework. However, the tuition award does not cover non-tuition fees. The award is for two years only, and no service obligation (e.g. teaching, etc.) is linked to the award.

Tuition Support

Your assistantship and/or fellowship are usually accompanied by a tuition award which is dependent upon your continued eligibility for the assistantship and/or fellowship. The award pays your tuition for full-time enrollment of no more than 9 semester hours of coursework per semester. Usually full-time doctoral students receive 100 percent coverage of their tuition while eligible masters' students receive at least 50 percent coverage of their full-time tuition. Only the tuition is covered and you will be responsible for university fees. The current UCF fees can be found at studentaccounts.ucf.edu/tf-tuitionratescurrent/. Non-Florida residents pay substantially higher tuition, and therefore U.S. citizens or permanent residents are encouraged to become legal residents of Florida by the beginning of their second year.

Graduate Student Associations

United States Institute for Theatre Technology Student Chapter provides grounds for discussion for ideas and inventions concerning technical theater, whether this be rigging, lighting, scenery, CAD, carpentry, electrician work or any other area of expertise.

This award focuses on the extent and quality of the assistance provided by the student to the lead instructor and the students in the class. (Not intended for students who are instructor of record)

Award for Excellence in Graduate Student Teaching - For students who serve as instructors of record and have independent classroom responsibilities. The focus of this award is on the quality of the student's teaching and the academic contributions of those activities.

Award for the Outstanding Master's Thesis - To recognize graduate students for excellence in the master's thesis. The focus of this award is on the quality and contribution of the student's thesis research. Excellence of the master's thesis may be demonstrated by evidences such as (but not limited to): publications in refereed or peer reviewed journals, awards and recognitions from professional organizations, and praise from faculty members and other colleagues in the field. The university award will be forwarded to a national-level competition sponsored by the Council of Southern Graduate Schools (CSGS) when the thesis discipline corresponds to the annual submission request.

For more information about these awards, please see the College of Graduate Studies website: graduate.ucf.edu/awards-and-recognition/.

For more information about the Council of Southern Graduate Schools (CSGS) thesis and dissertation awards, please see their website: csgs.org/ > Awards.
